

Dr. C.M. Neeraja Rani

Associate Professor
Andhra Mahila Sabha College of Teacher
Education, Osmania University Campus,
Hyderabad-500007

Email: neerajarani9999@gmail.com

Dr. C.M. Neeraja Rani is an accomplished educator and multidisciplinary scholar with over 19 years of rich experience in the academic sector. Specializing in Special Education for the Hearing Impaired (HI), she serves as a senior faculty member, committed to mentoring future educators through B.Ed. and M.Ed. programs. Her professional journey is rooted in inclusive pedagogy, with a strong focus on bridging communication and learning gaps for students with diverse needs.

Dr. Neeraja Rani possesses a highly diverse academic background, reflecting her dedication to continuous learning and intellectual growth. She holds a Ph.D. in Education and has specialized qualifications in hearing impairment through B.Ed. and M.Ed. (Special Education). In addition, she has earned a Master of Arts in English and a Master of Commerce (M.Com), equipping her with a unique blend of linguistic proficiency and organizational insight. Further enriching her academic profile, she also holds a Diploma in Astrology.

Over the course of her career, Dr. Neeraja Rani has developed extensive expertise in curriculum development, teacher education, and inclusive instructional strategies. Her experience spans both conventional higher education systems and Open University platforms, where she has consistently emphasized the practical application of specialized teaching methodologies. She has also served as the Principal of AMS College of Teacher Education for a brief period, demonstrating her leadership capabilities in academic administration and institutional management.

A proactive academic leader, Dr. Neeraja Rani has coordinated and organized several national and state-level seminars. She has served as a resource person in various academic forums and actively participated in numerous seminars and conferences, reflecting her continuous engagement with scholarly discourse and professional development. She has also contributed to academic evaluation processes by setting examination papers for various universities and evaluating university answer scripts, demonstrating her academic rigor and subject expertise.

In addition to her teaching and administrative contributions, Dr. Neeraja Rani has authored several research papers and has co-authored books and course materials, further contributing to the academic and professional community.

As a passionate advocate for inclusive education, she continues to work towards creating empowering academic environments that support holistic development through innovative, multidisciplinary, and student-centered approaches.
